

MAS DE LA GARRIGUE

Côtes du Roussillon Villages

In a general sense, the South of France produces some of the world's most reliable and inexpensive fine wine. The sunny and windy region has always provided a lot of juice, but only recently have such high-caliber bargains been so widely available. This bottling is a blend of the area's workhorses, Grenache and Carignan, with a generous dollop of Syrah added as seasoning.

MAS DE LA GARRIGUE

Côtes du Roussillon Villages

In a general sense, the South of France produces some of the world's most reliable and inexpensive fine wine. The sunny and windy region has always provided a lot of juice, but only recently have such high-caliber bargains been so widely available. This bottling is a blend of the area's workhorses, Grenache and Carignan, with a generous dollop of Syrah added as seasoning.

MAS DE LA GARRIGUE

Côtes du Roussillon Villages

In a general sense, the South of France produces some of the world's most reliable and inexpensive fine wine. The sunny and windy region has always provided a lot of juice, but only recently have such high-caliber bargains been so widely available. This bottling is a blend of the area's workhorses, Grenache and Carignan, with a generous dollop of Syrah added as seasoning.

MAS DE LA GARRIGUE

Côtes du Roussillon Villages

In a general sense, the South of France produces some of the world's most reliable and inexpensive fine wine. The sunny and windy region has always provided a lot of juice, but only recently have such high-caliber bargains been so widely available. This bottling is a blend of the area's workhorses, Grenache and Carignan, with a generous dollop of Syrah added as seasoning.