

Cantina del Pino

Barbaresco

Arguably the best wine-making co-operative in the world operates in Barbaresco, and for many years the Vaccas were counted as their star producers. Not too long ago they decided to make a break, and started to vinify and sell their own wine. While his father works the vineyards, Renato takes care of the winemaking. Their Barbaresco is equally well-balanced: complex and classically proportioned, it finishes long and fine. A real bargain.
