“Le Pech”: Chardonnay at 380 m altitude.

Chardonnay is the hallmark grape variety of Limoux, an appellation which has “some of the best Chardonnay fields in France outside Burgundy” (Jancis Robinson). It was first introduced into Limoux in 1975, originally as a complementary variety for its Blanquette de Limoux, and then incorporated into the still Limoux appellation some twenty years later. This chardonnay is our flagship wine, and has the lion’s share of our Limoux Blanc production. It has received considerable critical acclaim, with 92 points from Robert Parker Wine Advocate and 17 pts from Jancis Robinson, and has been awarded gold medals from wine competitions such as the Concours des Grands Vins de France in Macon, the Mondial of Brussels, & the Chardonnay du Monde. Chateau Rives-Blanques is a single-estate vineyard specializing in white and sparkling wines only, owned, managed and tended by the Panman family.
