

Cantina del Pino

Barbera d'Alba

Renato Vacca takes care of the wine-making at this small Piedmont estate, while his father works the vineyards. Their Barbera is forthright and flavoursome, a lovely package of dark red fruits with earth and game undertones. Not as slick as some of the superstars, it packs as much, if not more, flavour. This is wine true to its origins – honest and absolutely satisfying.

Cantina del Pino

Barbera d'Alba

Renato Vacca takes care of the wine-making at this small Piedmont estate, while his father works the vineyards. Their Barbera is forthright and flavoursome, a lovely package of dark red fruits with earth and game undertones. Not as slick as some of the superstars, it packs as much, if not more, flavour. This is wine true to its origins – honest and absolutely satisfying.

Cantina del Pino

Barbera d'Alba

Renato Vacca takes care of the wine-making at this small Piedmont estate, while his father works the vineyards. Their Barbera is forthright and flavoursome, a lovely package of dark red fruits with earth and game undertones. Not as slick as some of the superstars, it packs as much, if not more, flavour. This is wine true to its origins – honest and absolutely satisfying.

Cantina del Pino

Barbera d'Alba

Renato Vacca takes care of the wine-making at this small Piedmont estate, while his father works the vineyards. Their Barbera is forthright and flavoursome, a lovely package of dark red fruits with earth and game undertones. Not as slick as some of the superstars, it packs as much, if not more, flavour. This is wine true to its origins – honest and absolutely satisfying.