

Cascina Garitina Niades

---

Garitina are really Barbera specialists, but no-one can resist their Niades (formerly a Brachetto d'Acqui).

Bracchetto is the grape, Acqui is the village, and the wine itself is one of those exuberantly fun creatures that could only be Italian. It's red and sweet and a little fizzy, with loads of black raspberry and cherry fruit, perfect for fresh strawberries, 'dry' pastries and even salty hard cheeses.. Low alcohol heaven!

Cascina Garitina Niades

---

Garitina are really Barbera specialists, but no-one can resist their Niades (formerly a Brachetto d'Acqui).

Bracchetto is the grape, Acqui is the village, and the wine itself is one of those exuberantly fun creatures that could only be Italian. It's red and sweet and a little fizzy, with loads of black raspberry and cherry fruit, perfect for fresh strawberries, 'dry' pastries and even salty hard cheeses.. Low alcohol heaven!

Cascina Garitina Niades

---

Garitina are really Barbera specialists, but no-one can resist their Niades (formerly a Brachetto d'Acqui).

Bracchetto is the grape, Acqui is the village, and the wine itself is one of those exuberantly fun creatures that could only be Italian. It's red and sweet and a little fizzy, with loads of black raspberry and cherry fruit, perfect for fresh strawberries, 'dry' pastries and even salty hard cheeses.. Low alcohol heaven!

Cascina Garitina Niades

---

Garitina are really Barbera specialists, but no-one can resist their Niades (formerly a Brachetto d'Acqui).

Bracchetto is the grape, Acqui is the village, and the wine itself is one of those exuberantly fun creatures that could only be Italian. It's red and sweet and a little fizzy, with loads of black raspberry and cherry fruit, perfect for fresh strawberries, 'dry' pastries and even salty hard cheeses.. Low alcohol heaven!